A photograph of a rocky mountain slope. The left side shows dark, jagged rock formations. The right side is a lighter, smoother slope with patches of snow. In the foreground, a large, light-colored glacier or snowfield is visible, showing some horizontal layering or cracks. The text 'Geo Photo Bank' is overlaid in the bottom left, and the date '12/07/2011' is in the bottom right.
